

Falling Off the Pew

(Acts 20:7-12)

The story is told of the Christians of new,
Meeting on the first day as their faith now grew.

Taking communion together and breaking the bread,
Paul preaching truthfully, the church spiritually fed.

But as the Apostle preached as midnight drew near,
And a young man named Eutychus sat in the window to hear.

But sleep was upon him and no matter how he tried,
Out the third story window he fell and he died.

The people were sad at the loss of their friend,
But Paul with the Spirit revived him again.

So now as I sit hearing the preacher go on,
I feel sleepy as well so I hope he's not long.

I'm doing my best to listen and renew,
But I'm afraid I'll doze off and fall off my pew!
