

Live Today Like it was Your Last

Hey family, hey friends listen to what I've got to say,
Here's some advice for life as you go upon your way.

Life is sometimes hard, difficult to say the least,
So stand up like a hero and slay that old dirty beast.

No one said you have to be perfect, or be the very best,
Just give it your best effort and you'll pass every test.

Grab those around you and hold them very tight,
Love them all you can and with all your might.

When you see another person less fortunate than you,
Roll up your sleeves to help them cause it's the right thing to do.

Our time is quickly ended, then no more can be done,
So carry on those good deeds and find your own place in the sun.

Friends as you can tell, time goes on so very very fast,
So live your life today like it is your very last.
