

The Preacher's Perch

Many times a preacher, is placed upon the highest perch.
Folks then treat him as if, he's most important in the church.

They brag about his talent, what a mighty presenter of the word.
You'd think that there was none other preacher, that had ever been heard.

Well after so much applause, and all the praise that has been said.
Is it any wonder, all this goes right to his head?

With pride and arrogance swelling, condescending sermons he gives.
With malice and harshness he condemns, the lives his listener's live.

All of this behavior, is contrary to the sacred script.
The preacher is to be humble, and convict with a trembling lip.

His message is to be with love, just as the Savior did show.
To convince, rebuke and exhort, with all longsuffering you know.

So don't put the preacher on a pedestal, but love him like the common man.
Cause he too will give an answer, when before the Judge he must stand.
