

What If No One Told You

What if no one told you, to look in both directions.

When crossing the tracks or the road.

But the collision was unavoidable,

Because you were never told.

What if no one told you, don't walk alone in the dark.

On a mean city street, or where gangs hang in the park.

Then you'd be unaware, when the attack suddenly came.

Once the evil people struck, to kill and to mame.

What if no one told you, take care when in the woods.

Keep an open eye for snakes and critters like you should.

Then comes the pain, the sting, and the bite.

Because no one warned you, the serpent was not in your sight.

What if no one told you, Jesus died for you.

You need to accept Him and obey His word to be true.

So to go to heaven and live eternally well.

But because no one told you, you'll spend forever in hell.

So when you see your neighbor, family, friend or foe.

Be sure to share the gospel, with everyone you know.

Then on that Great Day, when the King we all shall see.

No one will ever have to say, "No one ever told me!"

Jay Launius 2022